MARGOLEN.

The Dog Tax.

It will be many years before the people will understand the many changes in our laws that were passed by the last Legislature. The Dog Law Tax went into effect Sept. 15th, but the assessment of all other property is of September 1st, which creates confusion to the assessor.

The tax on all dogs irrespective of sex is $1 annually except pups under four months old. All dogs must be listed with the county assessor previous to Sept. 15th. The first assessment is to be collected between Sept. 15th and Dec. 31st 1906. A failure or refusal to list dogs is punishable by a fine of $10 in each case, and, upon trial and conviction of failure or refusal to list same is finable in the sum of $25.

It is the duty of the sheriff his deputies or constables, to kill all unlisted dogs for which they are allowed fifty cents per head. When tax is paid on dogs they are entitled to the same protection as stock, and any one willfully poisoning a dog not his own or putting out poison bait, stealing or killing said dogs are liable to arrest and fine of from $25 to $100 and a jail sentence of six months. The sheriff is to keep the dog tax fund separate from other funds. The money so obtained is to be used to reimburse farmers who have sheep killed by dogs. The claims for sheep so killed must be made to the Fiscal Court at least thirty days previous to the term of court in which said claim is so made.

No Natural Gas Until Next Spring

The first annual meeting of the Central Kentucky Natural Gas Company was held at the office of the company in the Lexington City National Bank building Tuesday at 3 o'clock. There were present in person or by proxy practically all of the stockholders of the company, over fifty-nine thousand of the sixty thousand shares of the stock of the company being represented at the meeting.

Judge James H. Hazelrigg, of Frankfort, was elected chairman, and Mr. George S. Weeks, of Lexington, secretary.

It was the consensus of opinion of the stockholders present that the progress of the past year had been all that could be expected or hoped for, and that the prospects for the future were practically an indefinite life for the gas fields with every prospect for the extension of its fields.

Several of the stockholders however, expressed a view that it would be unwise for the company to extend its mains to the other towns in the Blue Grass which had made application for their extension until after those who desired to use natural gas in Lexington, Winchester and Mt. Sterling had been connected with the pipes, and the first winter had passed so that the company could tell definitely what the use of gas in these towns would be. They now have 2,850 meters connected with applications for over 400 more.

Judge H. C. Howard, who with others secured the natural gas franchise for entering the city of Paris, had conversation with the President of the company after the meeting, and was assured that Paris should be the first of the neighboring towns that would be connected with the mains next Spring.

Our housekeepers say Spears & Sons' Red Cross Flour has no equal. Sold by all grocers.

Miss Barbee, the Impersonator.

Miss Nannie Barbee, impersonator of negro and Kentucky mountain dialect, will give one of her delightful recitals at the Elks' Hall, on Friday evening, Oct. 19th, under the auspices of the ladies of the Second Presbyterian Church. Miss Barbee was born in Danville, Ky., and comes from a family in which slaves were an inheritance, and all her life has known colored people in their home surroundings. Her power of mimicry is marvelous, and she holds her hearers entranced, smiling, laughing or weeping as her tale goes on. In fact, she gives true minstrelsy on one string and provokes mirth and explosive laughter even more irresistible than a troop could. If you want to spend a most enjoyable evening don't fail to hear this lady.

Earliest Showfall Known in This Section.

The first real taste of winter came to people throughout this section Wednesday morning, when about 4 o'clock there was a flurry of snow and at different times during the day more snow fell throughout almost the entire State.

The mercury fell to 34 degrees above zero in the early morning and hovered around that point throughout the day. It is a peculiar and significant fact that this is the only time, so far as the records show, that snow has ever fallen in this section before there had been a frost.

The earliest date at which snow ever fell in this locality before was October 18, 1863, at which time it is said that some three or four inches fell. No other year shows a report of snow earlier than October 30, 1890, and October 26, 1899, upon which dates the precipitation was slight.

All through the Northwest and North the country is in the icy grip of the cold wave that is sweeping Southward and there is very likely a lively unpacking of winter wear among the matrons of the community is now going on.

New Bookkeeper.

Mr. Harry Booth, of Tyrone, Ky., succeeds Mr. O. P. Carter, Jr., as bookkeeper at the Paris Distilling Company. Mr. Carter having been promoted to the Superintendency of G. G. White & Co.'s distillery in East Paris.
